School Psychology Program at the Specialist Level

NASP, as a specialized professional association (SPA) of the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) conducts program reviews as a part of the CAEP unit accreditation process. NASP does not accredit school psychology programs, but identifies approved programs. CAEP accredits units, not programs, but provides “national recognition” status (full or with conditions) to NASP-approved programs in CAEP-accredited units. To provide all school psychology programs with access to the NASP review process and potentially to national approval/national recognition, NASP also conducts reviews of school psychology programs that are not in CAEP units and that submit materials for review by NASP on a voluntary basis.
